The Colony brings a unique business members club to the heart of Cheshire.

Early 2017 sees The Colony in Wilmslow, Cheshire open its doors to the thriving business community in the region. Located just minutes away from Manchester airport and under 12 miles from Manchester city centre, the highly sought after location in the heart of Cheshire's 'golden triangle' is the perfect place to do business in the North West. The Colony offers a combination of luxurious offices, professional business space and The HQ: a unique private business members club that is the focal point of this contemporary business development.

The HQ has a variety of membership options available for business people looking for a prestigious and professional environment for work and networking. The HQ blends the latest technology and business facilities within sophisticated and discreet areas in which to work, meet clients and network. It is inspirationally designed, excellently equipped and perfectly appointed. The HQ is first and foremost designed for people with very high expectations of their workspace.

The HQ is available for exclusive private hire for those businesses looking to bring their team or contacts together in a location where service is priority. Product launches or drinks receptions can easily be accommodated within a venue that will give your event the real wow factor. For less structured meetings, the workspaces are fully equipped and offer a contemporary open-plan feel for working sessions with colleagues, or simply checking emails and dealing with day-to-day business.

Presented over two floors, The HQ is an artful blend of business practicality and stylish indulgence. The choice of boardrooms, fully equipped with smart TVs, ultra-fast internet and the latest generation in presentation hardware, can host meetings from eight to 25 people. They are purpose-designed for board meetings, new business presentations and off-site team days, with complimentary tea, Nespresso coffee and water available to order. The HQ also offers private spaces with seating for quiet chats, negotiations, interviews or briefings.

Be it a meeting for 20, a team building event, a chauffeur-driven car or private dining, a complete back-office resource means you can create the perfect environment that will ensure your business will stand out. With state-of-the-art equipment, a well-stocked bar and catering facilities, private spaces and a complete support service, everything can be arranged at The HQ. The team can facilitate businesses in true comfort and style, with even an on-site shuttle service that regularly transports members throughout the day to where they need to go. The ethos behind the design of The HQ is to create a place where business and pleasure become one.

The HQ is an exclusive enclave, ideal for client entertaining and confidential off-site meetings. Annabel Hannam has signed up to become a member in advance of the HQ's opening. She is the Managing Director of Intro NW, a personal introduction agency, recently launched in the region after seeing great success in the south east. She said: "I was told about The Colony by a local friend. On visiting the site and meeting the team, it was clear it was perfect for my business. I wanted a prestigious location that could offer private meeting spaces, yet also allow me to network with key people from around the area. I am really excited to see it develop into a hub of business and networking activity."

The range of memberships available is designed to suit individual needs. Membership of the HQ at The Colony is capped to a certain number, to ensure that members always enjoy the space, comfort and availability of services that make The HQ valuable and pleasurable. A part-time membership (up to 72 days per year) to full-time membership with five days per week usage are available with membership fees starting from just £199 per month. There is also an international business membership where overseas businesses can get access to the facilities up to 72 days per year.
